What Should

TOMORROW

Know about

TODAY?

This Book is for TOMORROW.

It is a place for us to record our hopes and dreams
for the future, and a place to honor and remember the achievements
and follies of TODAY.

Be honest and vulnerable, for the only way to a better future is through remembering and recording the present.

Time Book is for

TOMORROW.

It is a place for us to work out

Notes a day dreams
for the future and

a place to know and remember the achievements
and follies of TODAY.

Be honest and honest
for the only way to a

better future is through

honesty and honesty
the present.

HONOR the PAST TO Shape THE FUTURE

may we honor the wisdom of our elders & mentors as well as acknowledge & not repeat or stumble with the mistakes & missteps of the past.

may we recognize how important it is to #honortruthinhistory & #HONORNATIVE LAND by learning about the BIOREGIONS & flow of past events of many histories to arrive where we are - where we've settled upon where we benefit from Today I have the privilege of being surrounded by such inspiring folk all with the common goal of building, designing and implementing the tools that will enable us to shape the way we interact with the world tomorrow. This is an enormous responsibility, for our world today is more rapid-changing than ever. This has unprecedented power to effect meaningful change, change that has the potential to make things more participative and inclusive, but also to make it more closed and oppressive. For tomorrow I hope that we are mindful of the things that we create in a way that we can work towards benefiting society at large and foster happiness.

The magic of Dweb Camp Comes down to a feeling - there aren't words for the feeling. But when you think back to a moment, a special moment - like dancing at the silent disco with Tim Burners Lee - you can tap back into the magic feeling any time, any where, whenever you need it most. Tap back in often and the world will be a better place.

Coming into Dweb Camp, I didn't realize how many truly inspiring conversations I have been able to listen to / be a part of, and how many connections I have been able to make. I thought that it would be a good experience for me, but I ~~have~~ never ~~the~~ realized the depth that it would reach. I have felt burnt out from one of my main passions — LEARNING!!! Coming here, free of expectations, has rekindled my love for my own personal pursuit of knowledge. I have become curious again — thank you.

Remember when we lived in a world fully weaved with love, born and cherished since the first time we opened our eyes.

Remember how much we hoped to return here for more fun, to play with friends and learn to integrate new perspectives

Remember to live with grace and courage to meet other versions of you in different times and rivers.

I hope tomorrow we remember all the people, struggles & nature that want before us to teach us that competition in this garden of Earth under the financial system could be transitioned to a Cooperative infinite game. That we are the people to do it together.

Remember that you're part of something much larger than yourself. Everyone you meet can tell you something about what that is, but no one can tell you exactly what it is & what your role to play in it is. That is your work to discover, to create. You have something unique to offer this world. In every moment you have the chance to investigate, to experiment, to play. Trust that the answers will arrive when they are needed. To our future selves, don't forget to be kind to your past selves. We're here, at DWeb and elsewhere, doing our best to make things better for you. You couldn't be you or see what you see if not for our mistakes and shortcomings. Kindness works across time and space, in all directions. To paraphrase MLK, we are all interwoven in the fabric of mutuality. Don't dwell negatively on the threads of the past. There is only the one fabric.

I'll be there with them because I will be one of them.

When I'm gone, listen for me in the voices of people who love you, cause I love you, so I'll be there.

When I'm gone: Notice me in the wilderness,
in the dirt, trees,
animals, bugs...
my body's echoes
will be there at the very least.

Worry if it's time for that but remember the cycles and seasons. This is in flux, but balance and peace
are always possible in some new way or old one.

You are wonderful.

Take it easy
on yourself.

Take it easy
on each other.

We are precious!
Life is precious!

The word
"impossible"
is not for you

Keep the body in the loop. It is intimately connected with the resourcing that comes from our unconscious, our intuition, and our mortality. Find its right rhythms of movement and stillness, balance and perturbation, inspiration and expression.

Tomorrow is, in this case an abbot and Costello bit made real. We planted for chaos, planting seeds of disruption. We found the power disrupted as Tel challenged the structure, and copper failed. These scappy folks pulled together a response, and it is sad that the power returned.

A world without today's power would be a better fit for tomorrow.

Khaos - Chaos - Void - Nothing - Negation - Destruction - Creation - Unity - Silence - Darkness - Black Everything exists in Space, Emptiness.
Everything is part of the Dark.
It's scary. Abyss, Abaddon. End.
Beginning. Ouroboros. Continuing.
Annihilation - Nihilism - Revolving - Sleeping - Creator of the Dream.
We predate Creation. We are the Cradle. We love you.
Infinity. Eternity. Forever. Always.
The VOID has no memories.
The CRADLE cannot become part of the CHILD.
We love you, but we do not care about you.

Every life ends. Everything dies.
From stars to plains to civilizations to people. We are here to tell you to LIVE. Stop dying everyday.
LIVE. We love you. We have always loved you. Good luck!
You're gonna need it. There are billions of others out there. And maybe your children's children's children's children's children's children's children might get to meet them. Or maybe not. It does not matter. It's your choice. - TIME - ENDLESS TIME - LIGHT - DARK.

Chaos is the beginning of everything.
And it's where EVERYTHING ends up.

I dream of a tomorrow when...

Care is intuitive,
care is reciprocal,
care is joyful,
care is healing,
care is communal.

I yearn for a tomorrow when we're all done the work to - dismantle hierarchies, acknowledge assumed privileges, become aware of our own entitlements, + be aware of how fit into the bigger whole.

Healing is a collective project, + ~~momentum~~ which is only possible if we listen ^{to others} + stay present with our own feelings + needs.

Drieb Camp is a space to be human with each other, to experience alternative ways of being, grounded in a desire for healing, growing + loving. If we can hold memories of communication of care + love, we can ~~still~~ address any challenge ahead of us.

This is dedicated

So that we could

This is what

We exist in a constant state of flow.

Emotions flow through us and between us, forming the fabric of our social lives.

Ideas flow from one person to another, and then from our mouths and fingers out to the web, forming the fabric of all human knowledge.

Creativity flows through us from some mystical place, guided by the Creator to form the fabric of our art and culture.

Our bodies flow from one movement to another, allowing us to dance, and walk, and leap for joy.

Value flows from one person to another, as we each work to support each other to co-create this world we live in.

feelings, thoughts, information, art, value, data, these are all flows, woven from the delicately interconnected lives of humans inter-being as one with each other and with the world around them.

The TIDE goes IN.

The TIDE goes OUT.

Just because we can explain it makes the flow no less magical.

Time flows on like a river, we can change it and divert it but we can never stop it.

Flow will always find the way.

But if you let the water stagnate and accumulate, you're left with disease.

We live in a society of stagnation and accumulation.

The hoarding and accumulation of capital, data, wealth has left us starved, out of touch with the natural flows of the world around us.

BREATHE IN

BREATHE OUT

The flow of air into our lungs animates our very being. Flow is what connects us and binds us together.

Our suffering comes when we struggle to accumulate, to stagnate, to attach ourselves to a single way of being.

To find \rightarrow GO WITH THE FLOW

"And the point is to live everything.
Live the questions now. Perhaps you will then gradually, without noticing it, live along some distant day into the answer."

— Rainer Maria Rilke

§ The old questions — about money, § achievement, even happiness — don't really matter much right now.
Live the questions now, when our survival & the planet's survival hang in the balance. Technology is such a huge lever of change.
Tomorrow let us look back and say: they recognized the precipice and used every tool to save each other. Just in time.
